PREFACE

The information presented here was collected and organized by the Office of Institutional Effectiveness. This office serves as the clearinghouse for official University statistics to promote consistency in reporting and the provision of timely and accurate information. Accordingly, all information provided was collected from official University files, the primary data source being the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board CBM reports. These reports are submitted by the University for funding and monitoring purposes and therefore represent official institutional records used for reporting to federal, state, and local agencies.

The data included here are presented in hard copy, but are also available on-line. To access this information, you should use the following address: <http://www.tsu.edu/ie>. Also, visit <http://www.tsu.edu/ie/datarequest> to request data not available on-line and/or to obtain a CD version. If you have any comments or suggestions, please let us hear from you.

TEXAS SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY
A Brief Profile

Texas Southern University was established on March 3, 1947, by the fiftieth Texas Legislature. Originally designated Texas State University for Negroes, it became the first state-supported institution in the City of Houston. In 1951 the institution was renamed Texas Southern University (TSU). Although the University was initially established to educate African Americans, it has become one of the most ethnically diverse institutions in the state. Additionally, its focus and mission has significantly evolved since those early years from a comprehensive generalist focus to a focus on the unique needs of an urban clientele. As a result, in 1973 the Texas Legislature recognized TSU's involvement in programs and services particularly suited to the needs of urban residents by designating the institution "a special purpose institution for urban programming."

Thus, TSU has undergone significant change over its brief 58-year history. Nevertheless, it has remained a special attraction for African Americans. The institution now distinguishes itself as one of the leading producers of African American scholars that obtain collegiate, professional, and graduate degrees in the state as well as in the nation. Since its inception TSU has awarded over 41,746 degrees. It presently offers 78 baccalaureate degree programs, 35 master's degree programs, the Doctor of Education degree in three programs, the Doctor of Philosophy in Environmental Toxicology, the Doctor of Urban Planning and Environmental Policy, and two graduate professional degrees (the Doctor of Pharmacy and the Doctor of Jurisprudence).

TSU is housed on a single campus in Houston's central city. It has over 40 buildings and occupies over 114.63 acres. Among the buildings are separate facilities for two professional schools; a music recital hall, acclaimed for its acoustics; a performance theater; the University Art Museum; a health and physical education complex containing a 7,200-seat arena; a student center; and dormitories. The University's Robert J. Terry Library has a collection of over 759,568 holdings. Additionally, the University owns a 25,000-watt FM radio station that serves as a teaching and learning laboratory and as an educational link to the community at large. The total assets of TSU exceed $250 million.

Texas Southern University

Historical Highlights

1947	Texas Southern University became the first publicly supported University in Houston. The University was originally founded as Texas State University for Negroes.
1948	Dr. R. O'Hara Lanier, U.S. Minister to Liberia, was appointed as the first president of Texas Southern University.
1950	Texas Southern University awarded its first Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from the School of Law.
1951	By legislative enactment, Texas State University for Negroes was renamed Texas Southern University.
1955	Dr. Samuel M. Nabrit was appointed the second president of Texas Southern University.
	Texas Southern University obtained accreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Texas Education Agency, and the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.
	The School of Law was approved by the State Board of Law Examiners and by the American Bar Association.
	The School of Pharmacy was accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education.
1966	Dr. Joseph A. Pierce was appointed acting president. Dr. Pierce later became the third president of Texas Southern University.
1967	Student protest during the turbulent 1960s led to a violent confrontation with Houston police on the Texas Southern University campus. One policeman was killed, and many students were arrested. The incident lead many to call for the immediate closing of Texas Southern University because of the "inability of the University's administration to control the behavior of its students."
